

Join me on BlogTalkRadio on Tuesday June 8, 2010 at 8:00 pm central time for the latest episode of "Consumer's Guide To Health". The phrase "evidence-based medicine" is pervasive in health and health care now. As the phrase becomes more common, there seems to be a growing chasm between those that utilize the scientific method, and those that don't. It's creating a rather intriguing problem for patients and practitioners. This episode will discuss the need for evidence and it's importance in competent self care.
